THREE LOSERS OVER LIBRARY SHAKE-UP BID

Although grand plans for one big winner

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

AXMINSTER, Colyton and Ottery are among the big losers in a proposed library reorganisation which, on the other hand, has grand plans for Honiton.

Seaton Library will be negatively affected, but not to the same extent as Axminster, Colyton and Ottery.

Members of Devon County Council's (DCC) cabinet have been recommended by officers to approve the proposal when they meet tomorrow, Wednesday, July 13th.

The proposal would see DCC libraries in Axminster and Ottery be open for 21 hours each per week, compared to the current 30.5 hours and 29 hours respectively.

The weekly portion at Colyton Library would be slashed from the current 16.5 hours to 10, whilst Seaton Library would see a reduction from 37.5 hours to 33 hours.

Honiton Library is the big winner, though.

Apart from gaining half an hour per week - from 37.5 to 38 — library service bosses have also announced it will undergo refurbishment and have new technology installed.

No DCC library will close as a result of the proposal, but a DCC spokesperson said: "Opening hours in some areas are being reduced and staffing efficiencies introduced in line with the results of the consultation.

"This will save up to £850,000 in a full year."

Criteria used when making recommendations for each library include; population size; usage levels; proximity to other libraries; cost of service delivery and the potential for wider community involvement in the running of the library.

DCC cabinet member Roger Croad said: "We are committed to keeping our libraries open and have the public's support to do so.

"However savings do have to be made, which is why we are already taking necessary steps to minimise costs where we can, including a review of our current opening hours.

"We know when people most prefer to use their libraries and are proposing new opening hours to accommodate this.

"In some cases communities will see their libraries' opening hours increase.

"Where libraries will see reduced opening hours, we will implement time tables to reflect when most people use them."

If the proposal is approved, DCC will publish the revised opening times in the coming months, with the new hours to be phased in between September 2011 and March 2012.

Crime is up on last year in sea resort

A TOTAL of 17 crimes were reported in Seaton throughout June.

The figure included six cases of theft and three cases of possession of cannabis.

PC Daz Norton, of Seaton police, said: "Although the crime level for June this year is slightly above June last year, some were the result of proactive policing and for the year to date we are considerably down on last year.

"Anti-social driving and traffic offences continue to cause concern for residents and the neighbourhood team have continued to carry out speed checks and deal with anti-social driving reports in the area.

"We have issued Section 59 notices to drivers and one vehicle has been seized under this legislation. This resulted in significant cost to the driver in order to regain the vehicle.

"PCSO Bolsover, with East Devon District Council environmental health, carried out dog fouling patrols on the seafront, issuing a warning to dog walkers contravening the dog ban area on the beach."

Invitation to all ages open

THE Senior Council of Seaton is inviting everyone, regardless of age, to its open meeting on Wednesday, July 27th, starting at 2pm, in the Methodist church's small hall in Scalwell Lane.

The speaker will be district councillor Stephanie Jones.

She will be talking about her role on East Devon District Council.

Refreshments will be provided and parking opportunities are plentiful.

Charity plea for products

A CHARITY shop in Seaton is on the lookout for more stock.

The British Red Cross shop on Fore Street is in need of clothing, bric-a-brac, toys, games and household items.

Donations can be left at the shop during opening hours.

◆ SOME of the ladies show their wares at the swapshop event

Big girls' swapshop held in memory

COLYFORD resident Anthea Simmons ran a Macmillan Fundraiser formally known as The Big Girly Swap Shop in Colyford.

Anthea lost her mother to pancreatic cancer in March this year and organised this fundraiser in recognition of the "fantastic support" given by Macmillan through the short but devastating progress of her mother's illness.

The event was held on Friday, July 1st, and Anthea said: "Despite the powerful distraction of the Murray v Nadal match a group of friends got together to swap clothes and books. The amount raised came to £200, and the local Hospiscare shop and Colyford Memorial Hall are the beneficiaries of leftover items.

Future looks bright for new Underfleet temporary loos

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

DISTRICT councillors look set to approve plans to provide temporary toilets at The Underfleet in Seaton.

As previously reported in Pulman's View, the Tesco development could result in the toilets being demolished as the supermarket giant redevelops the surrounding area.

A public meeting was held at Seaton Town Hall on Wednesday, June 8th.

The meeting was called by Sustainable Seaton and Seaton Development Trust and more than 100 people attended.

One of the main concerns highlighted during the meeting was the loss of visitors that the town could expect if it loses The Underfleet facilities.

East Devon District Council (EDDC) had wanted to provide signage directing people from The Underfleet to toilets at Marsh Road and West Walk.

However, that decision now looks set to be reversed and councillors are likely to approve plans to provide a temporary toilet block on the site of the former Tourist Information Centre building.

In a report produced by EDDC it said that temporary facilities could cost up to £48,000 per year.

The report said: "Figures provided by Portaloo indicate that the rental for the unit has risen from £13,700 to £14,000 per year.

"In addition, electric, water and drainage would also need to be connected at a cost of £12,000. Annual cleaning will be £22,000, making a total of £48,000 per year.

"Units can be delivered to site within two weeks of placing an order, but a further four weeks would be required to prepare the site and provide connections."

At the June 8th public meeting EDDC also confirmed that the demolition of the existing toilet block would not take place before Monday, September 5th. A decision about the provision of public toilets at The Underfleet is set to be made during a meeting of the EDDC cabinet on Friday, July 15th.

The report added: "Members (of the council) should be aware that considerable time has been spent re-visiting this issue. Many ideas have been put forward and rejected. These have included ideas such as the creation of new dropping off points for coaches in the vicinity of other public toilets in Seaton, along with a pilot community toilet scheme whereby nearby local businesses may be incentivised to make their toilets available to the public."

Joint-surgery event

SEATON Town Council and the Seaton Neighbourhood Beat Team will be holding a joint-surgery on Tuesday, July 12th in The Square, Seaton.

The event will be held between 9.30am and 11am.

Members of the community are invited to attend and discuss any concerns.

In the event of bad weather the surgery will be moved to the Community Resource Centre, Fore Street.

Council bid to save RBL

HONITON Town Council has confirmed that it is working to save the Royal British Legion Club.

The Honiton British Legion Club, based at Dowell Street, faces closure and staff have been given three months to revive its fortunes.

The club has been in the town since 1948 and was built by its members.

Events and activites taking place at the centre include concerts, amateur dramatic productions, quizzes and coffee mornings.

Club staff have said that they have lots of bookings but blamed the recession for people staying at home and not spending their money.

A spokesman for the town council said: "Following the recent concerns about the future of Honiton's British Legion Hall, the town council has been actively discussing the background to the problems with both the club and committee and the Royal British Legion local branch.

"The town council has long been aware of the serious shortage of good facilities within the town and is in the process of applying for planning permission for a new community complex to complement the current provision."

Mayor of Honiton, Vernon Whitlock, added: "Honiton suffers from a shortage of community facilities, recently made worse by the loss of the Red Cross Hall.

"The possible loss of the Royal British Legion premises would be an additional blow to the town and the many groups that are based there.

"The hall was built by Honiton people and funded by local subscription and we will do whatever we can to retain the building for the town."

Councillor Giles's thrill over village's play park

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

THE official opening of a West Hill play park took place on Thursday, June 30th.

As previously reported in Pulman's View, an unofficial opening of the play park, which is located close to West Hill Primary School and the village hall, took place back in April.

Youngsters from the primary school were joined by county councillor for West Hill, Roger Giles.

Mr Giles said: "I am absolutely thrilled that at very long last there is a play area for the children of West Hill in West Hill. No longer will their parents have to drive them three miles to Ottery or Tipton, or further afield, to be able to enjoy some play facilities.

"Many people worked very hard to achieve this splendid play park."

Andrea Davis, county council portfolio holder for children's health and well being, added: "I am really pleased to see another superb play area opening in Devon.

"It's so important that our children have well designed, safe and interesting play equipment to use in their local area.

"The playbuilder project is well underway now and has provided an excellent range of these types of amenities all over the county. I am sure this latest project will give youngsters a lot of enjoyment as well as be physically challenging and offer a stimulating environment."

Pan fire out with camera

FIRE crews from Exeter, Honiton and Ottery St Mary were called to a frying pan fire in Mill Street, Ottery St Mary.

The incident took place on Wednesday, June 29th, at approximately 5.20pm.

Two breathing apparatus wearers, one hose reel and a thermal imaging camera were used to douse the flames and the property was ventilated.

Crew called to accident

A FIRE crew from Axminster was called to reports of a car crash on the A385 near Greghams Farm.

The incident took place on Sunday, July 10th, just before 6am.

One car was involved and no injuries were reported.

The fire crew made the vehicle and area safe using small tools and a hosereel to wash away a fuel spillage.

Shop window 'ramp' smash

AN almighty bang rocked South Street in Axminster when a shop window was smashed.

The Co-op branch was taking a delivery at about 11am on Friday, July 7th when something went wrong.

A trolley somehow came off the delivery lorry's ramp and smashed one of Co-op's windows as it crashed down. There were no injuries.

The Wright way for second homes

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

AN east Devon councillor has met with Hugo Swire MP in a bid to put pressure on the government to change the way it charges for council tax on second homes.

Claire Wright, independent councillor for Ottery St Mary rural, says she is concerned about the number of empty homes in east Devon and that many of the empty properties are second homes.

Currently councils can charge up to 90 per cent of council tax on a second home and Councillor Wright believes this should be amended.

She said: "We hear a lot from the Government about building more houses but we have heard nothing about addressing the problem of long-term empty houses. What is the point of simply covering the countryside in houses when a considerable proportion of them here continue to be bought up and left empty for much of the year?

"It really is worrying that there are over 3,000 houses in east Devon that have been empty for more than six months. Most of that number are second homes. It is a terrible waste."

According to Councillor Wright, who is also a member of the East Devon District Council (EDDC) local development framework panel, there are 3,000 households registered on the EDDC housing needs register.

"The housing department at EDDC is working on bringing empty homes back into use and it can be a difficult and long process to track down home owners and persuade them to occupy their properties.

"I believe we have to end this counter intuitive system of council tax discounts and instead introduce a sensible charge."

◆ EAST Devon councillor Claire Wright is urging central government to change the way it charges council tax for second home owners

Bid to break record for skydiving is set

CHARITIES have joined forces with Skydive UK, based at Dunkeswell, near Honiton, in an attempt to raise money and break a record.

Families for Children, Exeter Leukaemia Fund, Afghan Heroes, St Loye's Foundation and Chicks are hoping to find 100 people to take part in a tandem jump on Thursday, August 18th.

Louise Banks, of Skydive UK, said: "If we jump 100 participants at this event, we will beat the current south west record for the most number of tandems to drop in one day.

"We are confident we can set a new record — but only with the support of the public.

"We have the fastest jump plane in the country so if anyone can do it, we can."

Anyone who raises £395 in sponsorship will gain the right to use £200 of it to pay for their jump.

Justice battle after husband holiday death

WOMAN TAKES FIGHT TO TURKISH COURTS OVER TRAGIC EXCURSION

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

AN Ottery St Mary woman is taking her battle for justice to the Turkish courts.

In August 2006 Siriol Roe was on holiday with her husband, Perry, and two children in the Turkish resort of Fethiye.

Tragedy struck when the family took a jeep excursion.

During the day trip the jeep that was transporting the family overturned and crashed.

Perry died at the scene of the accident and Siriol was left with multiple fractures and a ruptured spleen.

The driver of the jeep has since been found guilty of causing death and injury by negligent driving and sentenced to four years in jail.

Now the mum-of-two is urging the Turkish authorities to consider the part played by the locally-based tour operator in the death of her husband.

In a statement to Pulman's View, Siriol said: "The publicity leaflets we saw [for the jeep trip] were professional and advertised that the company was fully insured. We felt that an organised tourist trip where we travelled in a convoy with guides was a safe option.

"We were being driven in the jeep with another family but it soon became clear that the driver we had been assigned was young and seemed very inexperienced.

"He drove dangerously and at high speed. As we were travelling along a country road, he tried to overtake another jeep.

"He lost control of the vehicle and swerved off road. Our jeep rolled and landed upside down.

"Most of the passengers were thrown from the vehicle and I was knocked unconscious. Both my children were badly injured and Perry died at the scene.

"I am now in a position where I have lost my husband, and my children are without a father so I won't stop until justice is done and my family's future is secure."

Demetrius Danas, solicitor for Mrs Roe, said: "This has been an extremely difficult time for Mrs Roe and her family. However, she has remained steadfast in her determination to access answers about the circumstances that led to her husband's death.

"Her commitment to securing her children's future, and ensuring justice is done is truly admirable.

"In addition to the appeal in the criminal court, we have now filed the civil claim in the Turkish courts.

"Whilst no amount of compensation can ever turn back the clock, it is important to provide some financial stability for the family as, in addition to losing a husband and father, the family has now been left without its main breadwinner."

◆ A TEAM of cyclists has raised more than £1,500 for Force cancer charity

Tool centre's cycle team raises £1,500

A TEAM of cyclists from Axminster Tool Centre has taken part in the Century Cycle Challenge to raise money for the Exeter-based Force cancer charity.

This was the fourth year running that a team from Axminster entered the challenge and their efforts raised more than £1,500 in sponsorship.

Team members could either take part in a 55-mile ride or a 100-mile ride and all riders completed their chosen distance.

Tone Whitehurst, of Axminster Tool Centre, said: "Weather-wise it was one of the hottest days of the year. Thanks to the splendid organisation by Force, there were plenty of feed stops, well stocked with food and drink.

"Force hopes that its final total for the day will exceed £50,000, so this event forms a significant part of the charity's annual needs."

Health bosses set NHS dental record straight

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@findlenews.co.uk

HEALTH bosses across Devon are keen to kill the myth that no dentist in the county is admitting new patients on the National Health Service (NHS).

NHS Devon says there has been a 20 per cent increase compared to five years ago when it comes to people in the county registered with an NHS dentist.

It was also explained that there are almost 40 practices currently taking on new NHS patients in Devon, including Ottery St Mary Dental Practice and Den Dental Group Honiton.

Andrew Harris, responsible for dentistry for NHS Devon, said "Some people still have the view that they cannot get access to an NHS Dentist — but this is simply not true in Devon.

"We have 38 practices throughout the county that are taking new NHS patients today, including places where there have been some access problems in the past. While we are making great progress, we know that there is much more to do."

A helpline, which helps callers to find the nearest dentist accepting new NHS patients, has received an average of more than 1,000 calls a month since it opened two years ago.

The helpline is run by Devon Dental — a not-for-profit organisation.

Devon Dental manager Pauline Thayre promoted use of the line by saying: "Our friendly team answers calls promptly and has information on NHS dental services in your area.

"It's great to know that we're helping people get the treatment they need without delay.

"We would encourage anyone who still needs a dentist to call the helpline on 0845 002 0034, 01392 822348 or email devondentalhelpline@nhs.net."

Lions share for hospice

A CLUSTER of east Devon-based Lions clubs have presented a cheque of almost £4,000 to a hospice.

Raised by six Lions clubs in east Devon — Axminster, Seaton, Sidmouth, Honiton, Budleigh Salterton and Exmouth - a donation of £3,750 was made to Children's Hospice South West (CHSW).

The donation is earmarked for the development of a new hospice currently under construction at St Austell.

On Wednesday, May 25th Lions club zone chairman Peter Wells presented a cheque to hospice representatives.

A Lions spokesperson said: "This is now the third CHSW that Lions has supported by raising money for a room for families.

"It is to be called the Lions' Den and is a place where life-limited children can enjoy playing as a family and creates an opportunity for them to do special things with lasting memories.

"When it is completed (by the end of 2011), the three hospices will be able to provide very special care to over 600 children and their whole families and no family will have to travel for more than 90 minutes to reach one."

Later in the meeting, which was held in Budleigh Salterton, Peter handed over the chairmanship of the zone to Carol Wells, who has been chosen to hold the position for the next year.

Diamond prize for 'excellence'

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@findlenews.co.uk

AXMINSTER Printing has a new piece of silverware in its trophy cabinet.

The company recently claimed the Office Club Diamond member of the Year title at a conference in Nottingham. Office Club is a network of independent specialist suppliers of stationery and office products, with three membership categories.

Axminster Printing scooped the Diamond member award in recognition of "the excellent support given to approved suppliers, excellent use of marketing and promotional publications and good use of Office Club's material", which is made available to help grow sales in a difficult climate.

Jane Rockett of Axminster Printing said: "To receive the award when there is so much competition from members in England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland was a bit of a surprise.

"Office Club provides me with access to global pricing that enables our business to be as price-competitive as any multi-national company, but it is in our marketing where I take particular pride.

"Through Office Club I get access to promotions and offers available, but it is how these offers get passed on to customers that is so important in the current climate.

"Having fresh offers and price deals displayed locally and within the shop are vital to let customers know where we are and that we offer the best value.

"I guess this pride taken in the business is what has been recognised by the award. It makes me proud to think that a nationwide company like Office Club recognises the work put into making Axminster Printing a successful business."

High demand calls for two wind turbine days

HIGH demand meant that Stags' Wind Turbine Open Day at Sampford Peverell on Thursday, June 16th had to be split into two sessions to accommodate interested parties.

About 100 farmers and landowners attended, demonstrating that there is a high level of interest in the potential of wind power.

The event was held in conjunction with south west renewable energy firm Greenthinking.

Caroline Snell, of Stags' Honiton office, was one of the speakers, talking about wind power-related planning issues.

Caroline commented: "We were very pleased with the attendance and will be looking to arrange another open day in the near future."

If you would like to be added to a list for the next event, contact Stags on 01392 439046.

YOUR VIEWS & LETTERS

YOUR LETTER COULD WIN £10 VOUCHER to spend at Archway Bookshop, Axminster ~ As chosen by Pulman's View ~

Will drivers ever stick to roads' speed limits?

EDITOR — Further to the recent bicycle letters.

Yes, the speed limit is very important. Drivers fling their vehicles around sharp bends at high speed without a thought that an oncoming car could be in middle of the road passing a cyclist.

Accidents are rare due to this, because there are very few bikes on the road. Speed is not the cause of accidents, speed reduces the time between braking and impact.

That time is under the control of the driver.

Vehicles emerging from the Axminster hospital entrance into Chard Street frequently get hooted and flashed by cars approaching at 35 to 40 miles per hour (MPH) either up or down hill in the 20 MPH area.

To introduce an out of town 20 MPH limit which is observed will only be possible when cars' speed is governed electronically from central controllers.

Meanwhile middle-aged joggers are turning to the electric bicycle as the real answer to safe gentle exercise in hilly districts like Devon.

Seniors will suffer as a result of withdrawing cheque method

EDITOR — For several years big business and the mandarins of government have encouraged the idea of a cash-less society.

The reason given for the ending of cheque guarantees to traders, effective as from the end of June, is the diminishing use of payment by cheque.

A faulty argument if ever there was one — most retail outlets have not accepted cheques for quite a while, so no wonder that the use has decreased.

But many small businesses rely on this method of payment for services rendered.

It is particularly true for people who are housebound and for those receiving home services, such as paying the milkman, the window cleaner, the gardener and so on.

We were promised that cheques would not be withdrawn until a suitable replacement had been introduced.

But I have yet to see any non-electronic alternative in place.

The Senior Council for Devon, the county-wide voluntary forum for those over 50, has been making the case for keeping cheques — or bringing in an adequate replacement — to all major banks, the Payments Council and the Bank of England.

It is still not too late to stem the march towards a cash-less society.

Make your protest on behalf of the disadvantaged section of society.

Local service pips big firms

EDITOR — I would like to congratulate two local businesses for their wonderful service and cost compared to the big firms and the internet.

My cooker went pop on Sunday afternoon (June 26th), I called local electrician Matt Hall, who came out within the hour and found the problem was the element had blown.

On Monday I looked on the internet and saw the majority would cost about £25-£35 with a couple of days' delivery. I also phoned the Hotpoint sales line and after initially quoting over £60, they could reduce it to just over £40 with five days' delivery.

I then went to Paramount DAS and spoke to Clive and he had one in stock and it was priced at £24.95. I contacted Matt again and he came out at 4.30pm to fit the element and at a very reasonable rate.

The moral of this story is the big boys and the internet are not always the cheapest and best for service.

Thief takes lady's roses

EDITOR — Did someone you know recently receive a bunch of beautiful dark red roses?

Did they enjoy the lovely scent? Was the giver gratified?

I hope so, because the grower was an elderly lady and they were cut from bushes outside her sheltered bungalow, some of them from right outside her bedroom window in the dark of night.

She was deeply upset at the loss of the blooms and the fact that some mean-spirited thief was right outside her bedroom window while she was sleeping.

To those involved, how would you feel if this had been done to your elderly relative?

I must be getting very old as I just can't understand this kind of act.

A 24-HOUR vigil was held at Honiton's war memorial outside St Paul's Church as residents gathered to mark Armed Forces Day.

The vigil started at 6pm on Friday, July 1st, and a host of events took place on Saturday including a march through the High Street.

Armed Forces Day is held every year and is billed as an opportunity to raise awareness and support for the men and women who are currently serving or who have previously served the country.

Dozens of people lined the streets to watch the march as it made its way through the town at approximately 2pm.

Military vehicles were on display along with trade stands and music.

Spanish fun

AT the July meeting the Honiton Wine and Social Circle brought the magic of Spain to the town.

As part of a regular series of different and interesting events, the circle held a Spanish-themed evening.

Members brought along Spanish dishes to share and there was plenty of Spanish wine to taste and compare. Several of the members dressed in a variety of costumes.

There was a quiz with a Spanish theme and also games with Spanish anagrams and limericks.

Metropolitan man takes club on tour

TERRY Bown's job as an officer in the Metropolitan Police equipped him well for his recent talk to Axminster Probus Club about the subject of the number 15 bus route.

One of only two routes still operating, the Routemaster buses' journey starts in East Ham and continues through the historical streets of London to Paddington Basin.

Drawing on his extensive experience of the area Terry took his audience on a sight-seeing tour and pointed out the historic sights, peppering his account with many little-known anecdotes of the characters who had frequented the area from ancient times to the present.

There was the case of the individual who tried to smuggle Wellington boots of threepenny bits out of the Royal Mint but was spotted due to difficulty in walking.

A con-man sold Trafalgar Square to a rich, though gullible, tourist.

Terry himself would offer to open up Tower Bridge for the benefit of tourists — it helped that he knew the times of opening.

There was plenty of blood too as statistics were rolled out of the number of beheadings.

Such scenes were crowd-pullers but some of the onlookers paid the price too when a viewing platform collapsed.

Tyburn saw 50,000 executions; one of these was of highwayman Jack Shepherd watched by a crowd of thousands.

Public buildings were described as the bus continued on its journey and fascinating glimpses were given of their history all of which struck a chord with many members who had worked or spent time in London.

Rain doesn't stop play at barbecue

CARRIED away by the early good weather, Yarcombe Tuesday Club members decided to have a barbecue for their meeting in June and invite their friends and husbands along to join in the fun.

Pat Bright kindly suggested that her garden be the venue and members agreed upon what part of the meal they would provide.

However, on the day the long-desired rain had arrived and continued.

So the best laid plans of mice and men had to be adjusted and Pat offered to cook the meat in her kitchen and open the house for the feast.

Although the evening was in fact warmer and dry this plan was put into action and tables laid and seats, crockery and cutlery found.

As usual there was plenty of food and everyone ate their fill and enjoyed a relaxing evening.

The group was told that the cakes sold at the May village market had made a good profit.

On Tuesday, July 19th Maggie Tomkinson will be giving an illustrated talk on dancing in the Jubilee Hall, Yarcombe, at 7.30pm a change from the programme.

The club will go out for a meal on Tuesday, September 20th and Shirley Briant will look for venues and menus.

Members kindly agreed to provide savouries and cakes in the Jubilee Hall on Tuesday, July 26th after the remembrance service which is being held for Brian Major.

Easy embroidery

LLINOS Spriggs came to Ottery St Mary to demonstrate to the West Country Embroiderers how to create Byzantium, a form of embroidery based on Byzantine jewellery.

Members of the group were instructed to use iron-on glosses and colours which were then embellished with goldwork.

A lovely day was spent pressing and stitching to make an eastern design which would be beautiful in a frame and hung on the wall.

Llinos is of the opinion that too many believe that goldwork is difficult and complicated.

She says that much the same results can be achieved using cheaper and simpler materials and stitches. Anyone who can do a straight stitch can couch down thread into a pleasing pattern.

The group meets at The Institute, Ottery St Mary, on the first Monday in the month at 10.30am.

If you are interested in joining the needlework group and would like more information contact Pat Snelling on 01404 812651.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

THE Reverend Judith Abbott, team vicar, Axe Valley Mission Community said: "Returning home after the privilege of a month away, I find my vegetable garden has somewhat overgrown.

"The radishes and spinach have bolted, the parsnips are looking lush and the peas are a good two feet taller than I ever expected, with a crop to be shared as rapidly as possible. While away, I have seen many wonderful things and visited several different churches finding people in their own communities holding on to faith, striving to share it sometimes struggling with the contentious issues that are bound to arise as a Christian community develops.

"It all seemed very familiar. The church is alive and well, although often small in size amongst all the forces of secularism and lack of interest in faith. It needs tending, just like my garden. But it is encouraging to remember that it is God who gives life and growth, who sends warm blessings and dynamic energy and showers of goodness to the church, as to the garden, and who gives us the task of nurturing it, dealing with weeds and sharing blessings with any in need of physical or spiritual food."

Now, news from the Exeter Diocese link in Baghdad where Canon Andrew White, the chaplain at St George's Church, has received an award for his contribution to peace-keeping — well done Andrew.

Traditional evangelicals within the Church of England set up a new society last week, 'dedicated to the conversion of England'. The Anglican Mission in England (AMIE) aims to help Anglican ministers opposed to women bishops and gay priests to remain within the church, by providing oversight from similarly-minded bishops. It has five bishops so far. A more liberal evangelical Anglican grouping, Fulcrum, said it agreed with some of AMIE's aims but had "very serious concerns" about it offering alternative oversight without permission of senior church leaders.

There is a feast of music at St Paul's in Honiton every Tuesday at 1pm starting again on 27th July with light lunches to follow if you wish.

Women get talk on art of millinery

THE Seaton Women's Institute (WI) June meeting was enthusiastically attended.

The theme for the afternoon was hat-making. The speaker, Janet Williams, has travelled world wide to both learn and then teach the art of millinery.

To the group, not only were they interested in the technicalities, the really good part was getting to try on various designer hats for themselves.

It became obvious that there is a style to suit everyone.

The lunch outing to Axmouth Golf Club was very successful and the food was enjoyed.

Seaton WI has a varied programme to look forward to over the next few weeks, including a patchwork workshop, a coastal walk with a fish and chip lunch and a coach trip to Tavistock on market day.

The next meeting is on July 19th with a talk called My Life with Ducks. Visitors are welcome at The Seaton Methodist Church Hall at 2.15pm.

WI group meets for warm June meeting

THE June meeting of Musbury and Whitford Women's Institute was held at the home of Jan, in her garden.

Fortunately, it was a lovely day. There was a very small amount of business, including The Axe Vale Show.

Apologies were taken, and birthday posies given out.

The meeting was chaired by Brenda, as Lesley is on holiday, ably assisted by Mal.

It was also a pleasure to see both Ngaire and Janis.

There was a good turnout for sitting in the sun and chatting, followed by a cream tea, with a lot of the work being done by Jean and Jill.

Everyone appreciated the effort that had gone into it. More chatting followed, thanks were given to Jan, for the use of her garden.

The next meeting is on Tuesday, July 12th, at 7.30pm at Whitford Village Hall. The subject is Heirlooms of the Future and, as usual, all are most welcome.

Keep an eye out for ticks

I'VE just removed a couple of bloated ticks from my little lurcher bitch, the result, I suspect, of a minor foray through dense cover in pursuit of a rabbit.

These unpleasant little blood-sucking mites live on blood from wild animals, particularly deer, but will happily leap onto any potential source of nourishment such as a dog or human leg.

Unfortunately, whilst the majority of tick bites are relatively harmless, a number carry a bacterium in the stomach which causes the highly unpleasant Lyme disease.

Infection, which may appear as a red round rash in the area of the bite, and which gradually expands, can cause serious illness of the nervous system and even partial paralysis.

Early warning symptoms are swollen glands, aching muscles and joints and tiredness. A friend who suffered from Lyme disease, spent nearly six years in a state of constant tiredness and debilitation before the disease was finally conquered through the use of antibiotics.

Dogs are also susceptible to Lyme disease and, if bitten by a disease-bearing tick may develop arthritis at an early age.

Ticks can be active at any time of the year, though April to October is the prime danger period, so dogs should be regularly examined for ticks.

Special tick tweezers can be used to remove the little beasts. The creature should be grasped as close to the skin as possible and gentle but firm pressure applied to pull it upwards until it lets go. Pulling the body will leave the head still buried in the skin and a source of possible infection.

In the case of a human, early removal of a tick should ensure that even if the creature is carrying the disease, it is not transmitted. Only if it has fed on blood for several hours is there a risk.

If you are walking your dog in the countryside, see that the animal is wearing a tick collar or is sprayed with a repellent and check it carefully for ticks when you get home.

Don't wear shorts but have long trousers tucked into socks, wear shoes not sandals and have a long sleeved shirt. Spray insect repellent onto your trousers.

All this may sound a trifle excessive, but is essential in tick-infected areas. Unfortunately, our region is notorious for harbouring the little horrors.

As a deer stalker I am only too well aware of their presence and extreme care has to be taken when dressing an animal. Scores of ticks may be attached to the inner hind legs.

On a more cheerful note I have been reminded that there will be a guided butterfly walk at the Dorset Wildlife Trust's (DWT) King Barrow Quarries on Tuesday, July 19th from 11am to 1pm. The former stone quarry was abandoned about 100 years ago and has, over the years, been allowed to regenerate naturally.

The result is a minor paradise for butterflies, especially those which enjoy limestone plants. Here you will be able to see four species of blues — common, silver-studded, Adonis and chalkhill — and, I imagine, many other species.

The reserve is perched high on the Isle of Portland and close to the New Ground view-point which overlooks the Chesil Beach and Fleet Lagoon. The walk costs a mere £1 per person and will be led by Samantha Dallimore, community conservation officer for DWT.

Participants should meet at the entrance to the reserve by the name stone, on Yeates Road just off the A354. The ground is uneven so visitors are advised to wear suitable shoes. High heels are definitely out.

Good news on my swallows. They have at last nested and produced a brood of four youngsters, all of whom are now on the point of flying. Hopefully, they will now nest again before departing south around October.

Gardening on a Budget

TIPS ON how to tighten our belts in the garden, in the wake of the Budget - plus, find out what else needs doing in the garden this week.

The spring weather has lured enthusiastic punters to garden centres nationwide, ready to snap up a plethora of gorgeous plants, containers and other sundries to make their garden dazzle this year.

Yet research shows that in a tough economy, gardens are a low priority among householders. The current average spend on a UK garden is £482.16 a year with 42% of people spending nothing at all on their outdoor areas, according to research by woodcare manufacturer Ronseal.

But you can have a lovely garden without spending a fortune. When money's tight, there's a crop of prudent measures which can be taken which will save you a lot of cash.

Before visiting a garden centre, make a list first and only buy what is on that list. Work out what you really need, list the plants and other essentials and stick to that list. Walk up your garden beforehand and see where the spaces are, how the plants you want are going to work and where you will put them.

If you have a stack of containers to fill, consider using permanent plantings rather than annuals which will need replacing each year. Check in your own garden to see what you may be able to use. Overgrown clumps of ornamental grasses and other perennial plants such as hostas can be lifted and divided and divisions of the plant can be used to fill pots and other containers.

Hostas in particular look great grown in pots, their lush green leaves making any shady corner of the patio look exotic.

Longer-term, scan the discount shelves for sale plants which have finished flowering but should be absolutely fine next season. You can often save quite a few pounds on perennials which will bloom year after year if you're prepared to wait a while for the results.

If you're buying shrubs, buy smaller plants which are cheaper, as the space in-between can be filled with hardy annuals grown from seed that you directly sow into the flower beds. They are easy to grow, great value for money plus they give lots of colour all summer. Try poppies, corn flowers, calendula, larkspur and candytuft.

Don't wait until late April or early May to buy trays of summer bedding when prices will be at their peak. If you want annuals, sow them from seed, which is a much cheaper option. Biennial seeds such as foxgloves, hollyhocks and sweet williams can also be sown to give you colour next year.

Look for seed bargains on eBay and at discount stores such as Poundland, Lidl and Wilkinson. Cut costs further by going halves with fellow gardening friends, as you often won't need to sow the whole packet. Alternatively, swap your unwanted seeds and plants for some you do fancy from a number of websites including www.gardenswapshop.co.uk or free forums through organisations such as the National Gardening Association (www.garden.org/seedswap).

If you don't have time to sow seed, visit your local car boot sale to pick up plant bargains as well as cheap garden tools. Bargains can also be found in the free classified ads on Gumtree, while you may pick up something for free that someone else doesn't want if you join your local Freecycle group (www.freecycle.org/group/uk).

To increase your stock for the lowest price, take cuttings from plants such as fuschias, marguerites and pelargoniums.

And if you haven't yet started to make your own compost, there's no time like the present. There's a variety of website guides, but choose the more reliable ones such as www.gardenorganic.org.uk. Also contact your local authority to find out if it supplies subsidised bins in your area.

Best of the bunch - Snake's Head Fritillary (Fritillaria meleagris)

This dainty-looking bulb is a must for flower lovers, with its delicate purple-and-white nodding bells with intricate checkerboard patterns.

It thrives in partial shade in moist soil, so use a loam-based, water retentive compost and don't let it dry out in summer.

Snake's head fritillaries look good in groups in the centre of small containers, or combined with specie crocus in bowls oversown with grass to create a miniature naturalistic meadow in a bowl.

1940s dance raises £1,600

A 1940S-STYLE dance and concert raised £1,600 for the work of the Royal British Legion (RBL) in Devon.

The event was organised by the RBL's Axminster branch and staged in the guildhall on Saturday, June 18th.

The Three Counties Swing Band soon had people on the dance floor — and branch president John Granville-Smith marked the occasion by formally cutting one of three cakes donated by a lady named Jenny Crook.

A rug, donated by Axminster Carpets, was auctioned during the interval, followed by a prize draw.

Branch member Lesley Frankau said: "After sampling typical food on rationing during the war, provided by the women's section, the second half continued with Lee Tracey, comedian and entertainer who caused a sensation in his attire and - judging from the gales of laughter from the audience - was a hit.

"The whole event raised £1,600 for the work of the RBL in the county of Devon.

"Our thanks to all the traders who provided sponsorship and draw prizes, members of the RBL who helped stage the evening, Richard Hankey our MC, and last but not least, the people of Axminster and surrounding villages who supported the evening."

Betty's blooms are best in show

BETTY Copland claimed the Best in Show Cup at Axminster Flower Club's annual open day.

A total of 14 flower arrangements were entered across the two categories, intermediate and advanced.

Jean Haynes won the intermediate category whilst Betty triumphed in the advanced category as well as winning the overall title.

The open day was held in the United Reformed Church in Chard Street and the cup was presented to Betty by club chairman Doreen Booth.

Mill's exhibition

OTTERTON Mill Gallery's summer exhibition is showcasing a range of south west artists for whom the built-up world inspires their art.

This theme makes for an interesting and diverse collection in its portrayal of urban cityscapes.

The first featured artist, Clare Boyes, from Tipton St John, is exhibiting both paintings and small etchings of urban architectural scenes.

Her use of simple lines to depict buildings, along with the block colours she uses, gives her work a contemporary edge.

The second artist, Reg Bud, is exhibiting sculptures made from reclaimed timber. His sculptures are machine carved using an angle grinder fitted with a chainsaw blade.

This gives his sculptures an almost mechanized feel with their hard lines and block shapes.

The third artist exhibiting is photographer Malcolm Roberts. Malcolm is showcasing a series of framed photographs in muted black and white and sepia colours.

His manipulation of angles, perspective and light causes viewers to look at architectural structures in an innovative way.

The fourth and final exhibiting artist is Moose Allain. He is exhibiting a range of large and small pen and ink drawings whose detail and depth has the ability to mesmerize viewers.

Otterton Mill owner Caroline Spiller said: "We are really excited to exhibit this wonderful collection of work that celebrates the often overlooked architecture surrounding us. We are also proud to support and champion local artists, illustrating the wealth of creative talent on our very doorstep."

The exhibition runs until July 25th and entry is free.

◆ WILL Young is returning to the Plymouth Pavilions

Will's return pavilion date

MULTI-PLATINUM artist Will Young releases his brand new album Echoes on August 22nd.

The first single to be taken from the album is Jealousy which will be released the day before on Sunday, August 21st.

He has also announced a 23-date major UK and Irish tour this autumn including a return visit to Plymouth Pavilions on Friday, November 25th.

Coming on the 10th anniversary of Will's first audition for Pop Idol in 2001, Echoes is the follow up to his platinum-selling Hits collection and is his fifth studio album in a career spawning over eight million sales so far.

Echoes has been produced by Richard X (MIA, Kelis, Goldfrapp) who Will chose after falling in love with Steve Mason's (Beta Band) Boys Outside album that Richard produced. With Echoes Will has sidestepped some of his traditional sounds to move more into the world of electronic music, making an album of sophistry and gentility that pulses with the undercurrents of the dance-floor. The sweeping strings and key changes of his hit ballads have made way for synthesised melody, towards something sparer and more controlled.

Will has written all but one song on Echoes along with a personally assembled roll call of collaborators including Jim Eliot and Mima Stilwell (who writes for Kylie), Andy Cato (Groove Armada) and Pascal Gabriel (Ladyhawke). Jealousy is Will's first single release since the acclaimed History collaboration with Groove Armada that became one of the sounds of last summer. Prior to recording his new album Will guest starred in an episode of Skins last year as well as starring in the 2011 TV drama Bedlam. He also ran this year's London Marathon in aid of the Catch 22 charity having spent the last year fitting in training around the writing of the album in London, LA, the Namibian desert and Sydney.

Following his hugely successful 2008 and 2009 sell-out tours and acclaimed summer festival appearances, Will is ready to astound audiences once more with a nationwide tour in October and November. Catch Will performing live versions of his new material along with favourites from his past albums.

Anniversary play season

THE Charles and Imogen Vance Summer Play Festival has announced its 25th anniversary season at the Manor Pavilion Theatre, Sidmouth.

The July listings include psychological thriller, Night Must Fall, which was adapted into an Oscar-nominated film in 1937.

Charmed by the suave and handsome Danny, Mrs. Bramson invites him to be her personal assistant.

Also showing is Noël Coward's Private Lives in which divorced couple Elyot and Amanda are honeymooning with their respective new spouses at the same hotel in the south of France.

Despite their stormy relationship, the two realise that they still have feelings for one another. Perhaps Coward's most celebrated work, the play was made into a 1931 film and has been reprised numerous times in the West End and on Broadway.

N J Crisp's psychological thriller, Dangerous Obsession, is also included.

Sally and Mark Driscoll find themselves prisoners in their own home and at the mercy of a deranged sociopath.

Dangerous Obsession is full of twists and turns that will keep audiences guessing until the end.

Buying or selling a house is difficult enough these days, without an absconding wife, noises in the attic — not to mention Scarlet Lucy's ghostly embrace. Taking Steps, Alan Ayckbourn's riotously funny farce is also being shown.

For dates of performances or to book tickets contact the box office on 01395 57 99 77.

OUT & ABOUT

● ONE of France's greatest screen actors, Gerard Depardieu, will star in a film to be screened at Steamer's Restaurant in Beer.

The screening of My Afternoons With Margueritte is set to take place on Monday, July 18th and is the latest offering from Beer Film Society.

Described by Total Film magazine as a "gentle gem" it features Depardieu as Germain, a lumbering fifty-something mocked by friends for his ignorance.

In the park he meets Margueritte (Gisèle Casadesus), a bird-like old lady in her nineties with a passion for literature. Gradually she awakens parts of his brain he didn't know he had.

"It is charmingly French in all respects," said society chairman Andy Williams.

Doors open at 7pm with the film set to roll at 7.30pm and tickets are available on the door at a cost of £5 on a first come, first served basis.

Drinks plus coffee and popcorn will be available from the bar. For further details, see the website at www.beerfilmsociety.org.uk.

SENNA (12A)

Race hero's story

IN the high-speed world of Formula One racing, German driver Michael Schumacher is considered by many pundits to be the greatest athlete on four wheels, winning the World Championship a record seven times.

His dominance began in 1994 but that season will be remembered less for Schumacher taking the championship ahead of Damon Hill after they controversially collided on the track in Adelaide, and more for the loss of Formula One's arguably greatest and most unpredictable talent.

On Friday, April 29th that year at the San Marino Grand Prix, Rubens Barrichello was badly injured in the Friday qualifying session and the next day in final qualifying, Austrian driver Roland Ratzenberger lost his life navigating the Villeneuve curve at high speed.

During the main race on Sunday, three-time champion Ayrton Senna's car left the track after the Tamburello corner, colliding with a concrete wall.

He died soon after.

Made with the blessing of Senna's family and the co-operation of Bernie Ecclestone, Asif Kapadia's documentary pays glowing tribute to this handsome and charismatic sportsman.

Painstakingly constructed from hours of race footage, photographs, interviews and archive material, Senna celebrates the life of the Brazilian Formula One driver, whose death sparked a radical overhaul of safety procedures.

Kapadia's film opens in the late 1970s with 18-year-old Ayrton burning rubber in a go kart. He quickly moves up divisions, making his debut in a Formula One car in 1984.

Senna comes second in Monaco in appalling conditions and would have overtaken leader Alain Prost, had the race not been called off.

Thus begins an intense rivalry with the Frenchman, the reigning champion, who reacts angrily to one tactical collision: "Ayrton has a small problem. He believes he cannot kill himself. That's a danger to everyone."

Those words resonate chillingly as the film accelerates with sickening inevitability towards the tragic events of Sunday, May 1st 1994.

Equally moving is archive footage of Senna confiding, "There is a lot still to do in my life. I don't feel happiness today but I have plenty of time to achieve that too," unaware of his impending date with destiny.

◆ AYRTON Senna

The love and attention lavished on every frame of Senna are apparent, from the intimate home movies of the family together to the candid testimonies of the people who were there, including the trackside doctor who watched Senna take his final breath.

"He sighed and his body relaxed. I'm not religious but I thought that was the moment his spirit departed," the medic recalls.

Adrenaline-pumping footage from the cockpit of Senna's car in Monaco is a stark reminder of how close drivers have to steer to the crash barriers.

Our nerves are in tatters, and our eyes glistening with tears.

THE estate version of Ford's new Focus looks like being another big seller, with 2,000 orders already confirmed.

The Focus estate has racked up sales of 179,000 since the first model went on sale in 1998, around 12.5 per cent of the 1.4 million sold in 13 years. The all-new Focus estate is a stylish addition to the range and expected to increase this mix to 18 per cent.

Mark Simpson, Ford Britain marketing director, said: "The all-new Ford Focus has been a big hit with UK customers looking online and visiting dealerships and our attractive Focus estate completes the line up for them. The new Focus estate's athletic looks gives the car its own unique personality and we believe will broaden its appeal."

The Ford Focus estate brings the same class leading levels of technologies as that of the five-door, with many of the features new to the mainstream medium car market.

These include the optional £750 Driver Assistance Pack comprising seven advanced technologies — Active City Stop, Traffic Sign Recognition, Lane Departure Warning, Lane Keeping Aid, Blind Spot Information System, Auto High Beam and Driver Alert.

The estate is also available with the same choice of low-CO2 powertrain options. These include the 1.6-litre TDCi 115PS engine which comes equipped with standard Auto-Start-Stop and has CO2 emissions starting at just 109g/km.

Sales of this powertrain account for 43 per cent of all-new Focus in the UK.

The new Ford Focus range also includes the state-of-the-art new 1.6-litre Ford EcoBoost 150PS turbo-charged direct injection petrol engine, which debuted on the C-MAX last year.

This is one of a new generation of global, downsized, high-efficiency, low-CO2 petrol engines which deliver the strong low-end torque and responsive performance of a large capacity engine, but with the size, weight and fuel economy of a much smaller unit.

The Ford Focus estate is both dynamic and practical offering the extra space and flexibility customers expect.

Compared to the five-door it is 20cm longer, has 10cm greater width between the wheel arches and a maximum load capacity of 1,502 litres (in two-seat mode).

The estate therefore provides generous interior accommodation for both passengers and their luggage.

Priced from £17,100 on-the-road, the all-new Focus estate comes with over £1,000 additional standard equipment versus the equivalent outgoing model, including Bluetooth and voice control, USB connection, DAB, Thatcham Category One alarm, aluminium roof rails, tonneau cover, driver lumbar adjust and torque vectoring control all as standard.

AXE VALLEY OLYMPIC FESTIVAL

Pupils host an Olympic sports event

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

CRAZY catch, tag rugby, bench ball, a tyre challenge and a drain pipe relay were among disciplines at Axe Valley Olympic Festival.

Axe Valley Community College hosted the festival, which saw more than 300 primary school pupils from east Devon take part.

Each participating school was allocated a country to represent, so the young athletes competed for trophies and medals on a team-basis.

Sixth form college student Christina Squire was the chief organiser of the festival, which was staged on Wednesday, July 6th.

HONITON NETBALL CLUB

HONITON Netball League has been running pay and play fun sessions for U14 girls for the last two years after previously running an U16 league.

It is with great pleasure that the league can now announce that the junior sessions have been so successful they have evolved i to the creation of Honiton Netball Club.

This move has been made to give those girls who want to play competitive netball an opportunity to do so whilst also allowing those who want to play for fun to still attend training sessions.

It has also this year been possible to extend the age groups catered for and the club now accepts girls from school years seven to 11 with teams at U13, U14 and U16.

The club has fully qualified coaches thanks to money awarded by the Mullins Trust in 2010 and is on the way to having a full committee although there are still a couple of roles to fill.

Since January the club has entered a U14 team into the Exeter and District Junior League and a U16 team into the East Devon U16 League both teams did really well finishing second in both leagues. We have also entered some open tournaments which have been great fun for the girls.

Next season the club will be entering the leagues again and hopefully adding an U13 team as well as entering the teams into regional tournaments.

The players have been key in the evolvement into a club and there has been a competition to design the club kit which was won by Paige Fahy from the U14 team.

The club secured some sponsorship and has done some fundraising and is two thirds of the way to buying kit for the teams but would welcome any new sponsorship.

A big thanks must go to all the players and parents for their support though the transition, to the club coaches and volunteers for their hard work and to Honiton Netball League for their support of junior development in Honiton over the last four years.

If you are interested in coming to the club, training starts again in September or if you are interested in sponsoring the club, contact Jenny Kelly at jknetball@tiscali.co.uk.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

◆ SAM Tooze, Claire Moles, Gill Day and Ethan Day at the Bovey Half Marathon

AXE Valley Runners (AVR) Sam Tooze, Claire Moles and Gill Day ventured to Bovey Tracey for a half-marathon on Sunday, July 3rd.

Sam managed it in 2:10, Claire, in her first half marathon for the club, completed in 2:20, and Gill in 2:22.

Young Ethan Day ran his first official fun run as an AVR member, and finished in eighth overall.

The AVR Running Festival the following weekend included a leisurely eight-mile run to Beer for some beer and food.

The main run of the weekend was the Blackdown Beauty organised by Honiton RC.

Jon and Gill Day, Gary Perratt, Simon Davey and Gavin Warren, accompanied by two Yeovil runners, journeyed to the Holman Clavel inn, which opened especially for the runners despite its extensive renovation.

Runners could select a 10 or 18-mile route.

All the intrepid gang selected the longer version over the Blackdown Hills with fantastic scenery and five pub stops.

After the first three pubs some of the gang decided to follow the race director, John Burgess, on his little short cut to the cream tea stop, which by then was very much needed.

Somehow poor Gavin and Simon went wrong and had to go an extra mile.

After this, the guys all stayed together to the end and were delighted to finish in just under five hours.

Saturday was rounded off by the club barbecue at Manor Farm in the evening.

On Sunday there was a long and short run from Manor Farm, and both were at a leisurely pace due to the runs the day before.

It was a perfect end to a great weekend.

Sue Venn ran the Wellington 10k in 64:17 and was really pleased to find her times are now decreasing.

She was really chuffed as it was tough and very humid which just sapped the energy.

A lovely elderly lady sat at her garden gate and hosed runners down as they passed by.

Sue reports to now being very lame, the result of tying her shoelaces too tight.

Liam McLean won the July AVR junior handicap in a new personal best of 14:00.

Lydia Clapp was second in 13:57 and Josh Coates third in 12:18.

Andy Hitchcock was first home in the senior race, but despite knocking six minutes off his personal best, his time does not count as he has not run enough qualifying runs.

Sue Willer was the winner in 34:00, followed by Chris Irving in 24:57 and Teresa Coates in 32:06.

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

Clowns stop for cream tea during beauty run

SEVERAL Honiton Running Club members took part in the Otter Rail and River 10k at Tipton the week before last.

It was a lovely sunny day and it attracted a record 160 runners. The course is very pleasant with runners treated to views of the River Otter and surrounding countryside.

The race takes in the welcome shade of Harpford Woods where racers run along the old railway line. Ben Stone had a great run and was first back for Honiton in sixth place in 41 minutes.

Julie Payne took the prize for third lady and also formed part of the winning Honiton ladies' team. Helen Davy and Olivia Higginson were the other members to count.

Helen injured her ankle during the race and will have to take some time off running but she did very well to finish and came a great 41st place in 48:58.

Olivia is running really well at the moment and was delighted to win her prize. She was 76th in 54:57. Nick Bradley-Carter was less than a minute ahead of her coming 71st in 54:07. Honiton ladies outnumbered the men considerably and all other members of the Honiton group were female.

They were; 83rd Jennie Sleeman 55:48, 112th Clare Melbourne 1:00:37, 152nd Tracey Strawbridge 1:09:10 and 153rd Kim Werner 1:10:11.

Thanks to all the organisers especially Jo Earlam and the very friendly marshals.

Honiton's own Blackdown Beauty took place last Saturday with over 70 runners taking part.

They had a choice this year of 18 miles or 10 miles although some who intended running 10 actually ended up running over 13 due to some creative navigating by a certain member in the group.

The long route took in five pubs as well as a cream tea but if you chose the 10 mile route you were forced to forfeit a stop at three of the pubs.

Both routes began at Holman Clavel Inn and although the pub is presently being refurbished, the new owners kindly opened its doors to runners and allowed the grounds to be used as the headquarters.

The long route then took runners to Pitminster and then on to Clayhidon before a visit to Pear Tree Cottage, Stapley, for the delicious cream tea, appreciated by all.

Thank you to the Parry family for the use of their gorgeous garden and all the ladies for the cream tea.

Once fed and watered, runners went on to Churchinford before running back to base. Fancy dress was optional and Honiton runners were encouraged to dress with a circus theme.

Thanks were given to everyone who helped in any way as well as all the landowners.

A special thanks was given to John Burgess who has given up many hours of his time organising the event in so many ways including creating the booklet, tirelessly investigating possible routes and visiting landowners and publicans.

Top triple was Maria Johnson, Shirley Fewtrell and Barbara Harden.

On the same day the Seaton A and B teams played in the men's Exeter Over 60s Triples League.

The A team beat Feniton B team by 52 shots to 18. Top triple was Alan Wood. Ivor Steer, and Les Tooze. The B team lost to Tiverton B by 28 shots to 42.

The ladies lost a three-rink friendly against Madeira ladies by 49 shots against 63.

Top rink was Ann Joyner, Maureen Wolf, Joan Russell and Sue Rutter.

On July 8th two ladies rinks played on the carpet at Axminster, drawing 19 all on one rink and losing 25 against 19 on the other.

Ex-cricketer takes on new golf challenge

FORMER Devon cricketer James Pickard is aiming to hit his opponents for six in the Powerade PGA Assistants' Championship West Region qualifier at Honiton Golf Club on Thursday, July 21st.

Pickard, an all-rounder, chose golf ahead of cricket and is in the first year of PGA training as he prepares for the tournament, which is staged in association with FootJoy.

The qualifier is being played at Pickard's home club and he will be aiming for a place in the final which carries a prize fund of £32,000 at the East Sussex National course next month.

However, he faces tough opposition in the form of some of the region's most promising talents, including Caerphilly Ridgeway Golf Club's Cennydd Mills and Ben Martin of Devon's Hele Park,

Fern Grimshaw, of Weymouth's Wessex Golf Centre, has also entered and, while recognising the quality of the opposition, Pickard is hoping his knowledge of the course will help him.

He said: "I obviously know this course well — accuracy is the key thing and the greens are undulating

"The club is very excited about staging this Powerade qualifier, it's a great honour and some excellent players will be in the field. I think players like Mills and Martin are going to do well in the future."

As for his decision to opt for golf instead of cricket, Pickard has no regrets.

He added: "I played a couple of minor counties matches for Devon and some senior grade cricket in New Zealand. I was an all-rounder.

"But it didn't get any further than that and I felt the PGA qualification would help me more as it's something that is recognised all over the world.

"I enjoy coaching and would eventually like to work in places like Australia and the UAE. Hopefully I'll be able to use some of the contacts I made as a cricketer to work abroad in the future."

The championship was first contested in 1930 and is the oldest on the PGA's national schedule.

And it has been won by some of the biggest names in British golf including two-time major champion and Ryder Cup-winning captain Tony Jacklin, Peter Alliss (eight Ryder Cup appearances), Harry Weetman (six appearances and 1965 captain) and Dai Rees (nine appearances and captain five times).

Tierney's dashing net 65 win in division one

Monthly Medal

JOHN Tierney took first place in Division One with a dashing net 65.

John Gillingham was second with 68 and Ron Graham, getting back to somewhere near his best took third with a par 69.

Division Two displayed equally good scoring with Andy Wagner's net 68 just pipping Terry Linsdale's 69 despite both carding triple bogey sevens along the way. Julian Netherway was third with a 70.

Tuesday Mixed

A small field played the Tuesday Mixed which this week took the form of a Greensomes Stableford.

Due to the fog closing in the competition was reduced to 14 holes. The winning pair with 28 points were Jennifer Pyle and Max Pipe.

Second place were lady vice captain Jackie Seager and Paul Ritchie with 26 points.

Ladies Section

For the brave hearted who signed up for the 36-hole Jubilee Cup (Stabledford) on Wednesday it was a gruelling day, especially for the afternoon play when the weather became cold, wet and windy, but the winner, Jane Watts, came in with a great score of 71 points.

Sue Ritchie was second with a very respectable 68 points.

On the same day the High Six Trophy, an 18-hole Stableford for 31 to 36 handicaps, boasted a great winning score from Majsan Stroud on 37 points, with Jean Moon getting second place with 33 points.

The rest of the field of ladies played their July qualifying Stabledford and Sue Ritchie took first place in Silver Division with 38 points, closely following by Jane Watts on 37 points.

In Bronze One Division first place went to Penny Blackburn with 36 points (countback on last three), while Val Daniels, also with 36 points, was pipped at the post into second. Jenny Raison made third with 33 points.

In Bronze Two Division Majsan Stroud scored a great 37 points, and Lesley Oxenham came second with 34 points, chased by Jean Moon for third on 33 points.

Senior Section

Around 74 members of the Senior Section took to the fairways in shower threatening conditions which never really materialised on Friday, so the scores were pretty good for the three-ball team event with two scores to count on each hole.

Dave Maggs, Mike Kent and Trevor Bradley, drew gasps from early starters enjoying their tea and favourite lunch, as their score — 81 points — appeared on the leader-board.

No one could beat that, and they later collected their first prize vouchers for the restaurant — for more lunches.

In second place scoring 78, were Norman Ede, Brian Morrison and Don Leach. John Lamb with John Weeden and Jack Phillips were third with 76, and fourth came Ted Chandler, Dave Morgan and Peter Bates combining with 75.

Ten players scored a two, each receiving seven golf balls — Ed Backhouse, John Bevan, Brian Elkington, Michael Hunt, Ted Chandler, Fred Utting, Don Leach, Brian Morrison, Fred Thomas and new Seniors member, Mike Faraday.

During the week, the seniors entertained Crediton Seniors with the match finished in fog.

With the kind direction of the Honiton players, Crediton managed a draw, three and a half games each.

AXE CLIFF GOLF CLUB

Seniors' Section

ONCE again the seniors put up a good fight away from home, this time at Torrington in a recent inter-club match.

Again the outcome was decided in the final match and a narrow win for the home side gave them an overall victory by 4 v 2.

Successful pairings for Axe Cliff were Mick Tomes with Neil Moorcraft and Malcolm Glass with John Mason.

Despite the good weather the turn-out for the three club competition was disappointing but the outcome was very close.

In the end the trophy went to Brian Wilkes (13) with his winning score of 33 points, a point ahead of the runners-up on the countback second placed went to Tony Strong (9) and third to Neil Moorcraft (22).

The main club competed this Sunday for the July Medal.

Division One was won by Cyril Hellier (11) with a nett 69.

Second with a nett 71 and a better back nine than third placed Charlie Griffin (8) was Peter Petherbridge (12).

Division Two was won by Theo Boalch (18) with a fantastic nett 62.

Second was Robert Foxwell (20) with a nett 66.

Third place, again on the back nine ruling with a nett 66, was Nigel Harding who also had a hole in one on the 11th.

FENITON BOWLING CLUB

Thrilling encounter of the ladies' final

FENITON men's team defeated Ottery St Mary in the section three final of the Foxlands competition by 45-29 and now move on to the Devon quarter-finals of the competition.

The winning rinks were Martyn Eveleigh, Jim Skinner, Don Coyne and Tony Kury 25-12 and Ian Veitch, Alan Smith, Steve Dommett and Kevin Lovering 20-17.

Congratulations are also due to Feniton's mixed triples team of Ian Veitch, Ruby Veitch and Kevin Lovering who have progressed to the quarter finals of the Devon mixed triples competition, thanks to victories over teams from Honiton and Madeira.

In the County Trophy Competition Feniton lost to Seaton by 70-89, despite winning two of the four rinks.

The winning rinks were Tony Young, Robin Cooke, Roger Smith and Kevin Lovering 31-16 and Eddie Cox, Jim Skinner, Andrew Evans and Tony Kury 20-18.

In the over 60s men's triples league the A team suffered a narrow defeat away to North Tawton by 33-35.

The winning rink was Stan Nevill, Alan Smith and Andrew Evans 23-13. The B team lost on both rinks away at Seaton by 18-52.

The men's team lost a friendly match at Sidmouth by 64-75. The only winning rink was Frank Brooks, George Skinner, Roger Clarke and Ian Veitch 22-11.

The weekend was given over to the ladies and men's handicap competition. The men's competition was won by Robin Cooke who defeated Andrew Evans by 21-14.

The ladies final was a thrilling encounter between Ruby Veitch and Lyn Eveleigh.

Ruby made an excellent comeback after being 10-0 down, eventually winning by 23-24, strangely never having been ahead in the match.

AXMINSTER TOWN CRICKET CLUB

1st XI v Plymstock at Cloakham

WITH Captain Paul Miller unavailable vice captain Nick Taylor must have been more than happy with the result of this game.

Visitors Plymstock were top of the table but the Axminster side gave themselves a real boost at the start of the second half of the league season by winning by two wickets.

The visitors put into bat were never in a position to build a large score other than a stand between Orchard(27) and Hocken(22) for the fourth wicket that took the score to 100.

The introduction of Alex Wraight (4-19) however saw the collapse of the middle order before Parkinson (19) and Jordon (14*) took the visitors to 151.

As last week the Axminster batting was somewhat shaky but a mature innings from Tristan Wakeley (68*) took the side over the winning line.

David Murnane was obviously in a hurry hitting 18 from his first over but was then dismissed on the final ball of the over. Joel Seward (18) helped Tristan take the score to 80 but wickets fell regularly and Plymstock always looked in with a chance of stealing the game.

A nervous Nick Taylor had to bat with his side needing three runs to win but the victory was secured with overs to spare. The town should be stregthened next week by the return of Paul Miller, Gary and Danny Larcombe for the return match against Dartington.

2nd XI v Ottery St Mary (away)

After an improved performance last week Peter Kiy must have had some confidence with what looked like a useful batting side travelling to Ottery.

A total of 68 tells its own story with Tubbs (4-16) and K Biggs (4-16) doing the damage. The Ottery openers had little trouble in reaching the total with G Biggs hitting 10 boundarys in his 53 not out.

3rd XI v Whimple at Cloakham

Whimple had the opportunity to bat first and were bowled out in their final over for 182.

Alan Ostler was the pick of the home bowlers taking 5-44 in a 10-over spell with Captain David Gadsden (3-31) giving good support.

There were usful scores of 30 plus from Brown and Bardot.

The home side never came to terms with the chase and only Alan Ostler showed very much resistance and they were bowled out for 81.

OTTERY EDGE CLOSE TO WIN

By KEVIN FAHEY
sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

THE current strength of Ottery St Mary Cricket Club is edging them closer to the prize of a double promotion season this summer.

The first team's seven-wickets victory over Bridestowe, earning them 19 points, has left them second in D Division just 17 points behind leaders Ipplepen and ahead of local rivals Feniton.

And to complete a good day for the club the second XI brushed aside a young Axminster side by 10 wickets to pick up 20 points and also consolidate second place behind Ipplepen.

"It is great for the club that both sides are doing really well at the moment and are near the top of the table," said second XI skipper Gavin Iley.

"We are just halfway through the season so there is still plenty to play for but we are in a good position."

In the first team game a superb spell of bowling from Joe Birch, who has just returned to the side after the end of his university term, restricted Bridestowe to 143-8. Birch ended with 4-38.

In reply Jody Clements' side cruised to victory for the loss of just three wickets with Sam Tenant top scorer on 41 while Jack Pritchard finished not out on 31.

For the seconds Alex Tubbs (4-16) and Keith Biggs (4-17) did the damage with the ball as Axminster were skittled out for just 68, a total that Ottery reached with some ease, George Biggs scoring 53 not out and Andy Dean supporting on 16.

Feniton had hoped to put the brakes on Ipplepen's title challenge but ultimately had to settle for just five points as they were beaten by the leaders by five wickets.

"I think Ipplepen will win the league but to be honest we didn't play very well on Saturday," admitted Feniton skipper Mark Kingdon.

"We just didn't bat well enough and they have a New Zealand left-arm spinner who is very good and gets all their wickets."

Put into bat Feniton scored 138 all out with Norman Bedford hitting 52 and Martin Swannell 27.

That was always going to be a difficult total to defend but Ipplepen were rocking at 49-5.

"I then dropped a catch and if I had held it, who knows what might have happened," added Kingdon.

Despite a fine spell by Bedford, who finished with 3-51, Ipplepen never lost another wicket as they reached 139-5 and picked up 19 points to consolidate their lead at the top.

Uplyme and Lyme Regis, who included teenagers Henry Perry and James Dunford in the side, closed the gap on Honiton in E Division with a comprehensive win by 61 runs over Kenn.

Skipper Ashley Caddy led by example scoring 93 and Adam Caddy hit 35 – but was then run out by his brother – as Uplyme reached 221-8.

The Caddy brothers then did the damage with the ball, Ashley taking 3-8 and Adam 3-36 while Neil Price chipped in with two wickets as Kenn were dismissed for 160.

"It was a fantastic result for us and that's four wins on the bounce. We are climbing the table now and things are coming together," said Caddy.

Honiton maintained a slender lead over Uplyme — Fileigh are top of E Division after beating Upottery — with a 36-runs win over Kentisbeare. Batting first Honiton struggled to 96 on a poor pitch with Bradley Graves top scorer on 17.

"I was a bit worried with that score but with our bowling attack on that pitch I knew we still had a chance," said Honiton skipper Kevin Kelly.

Amazingly Kentisbeare reached 30 without loss before imploding and finishing on 59 all out with Kelly taking four wickets and Alex Beighton three.

"Once they lost the first wicket they just panicked," added Kelly.

In F Division Yarcombe kept up the pressure on the leaders with seven-wickets win over Exeter Civil Service. Ben Fuzzard's spell of 3-6 off seven overs did the damage as Exeter CS were bowled out for 99, a total that Yarcombe reached for the loss of just three wickets with Jonathan Rich scoring 34 and skipper Nigel Parris an unbeaten 28.

"It was nice to get back to winning ways," said Parris.

Students complete project

By ANDERS LARSSON

A TEAM of Axe Valley Community College students recently completed the final element of a combined cycling and business project

The college entered a team for this year's 104-kilometre-long Dartmoor Classic Cyclosportive under the management of teacher Mark Beacham.

As previously reported, team members were put in charge of everything from designing the kit to selling advertising space on it.

A business breakfast was held in January to drum up support, and the whole project was completed when the challenge took place on Sunday, June 26th.

The non-competitive endurance challenge is staged by Mid Devon Cycling Club and attracted more than 2,500 participants.

The youngsters set off at 8am from Kingsteignton, feeling both nervous and excited.

The early morning mist soon cleared from the moor and temperatures rose, making it really hard going.

At the half way point in Princetown everyone was already tired due to the heat, but after some food and drink the students were ready for the home leg via Moretonhampstead and Teign Valley.

They crossed the finishing line after approximately eight hours and Mr Beacham said: "The event organisers were so impressed by the achievement of the youngsters that they presented them with special gold medals, which was a totally unexpected end to a fantastic day.

"I could not be more proud of the students.

"The commitment they have shown over the last six months is a wonderful example to all young people.

"Most of them had never ridden a road bike four months ago, so I am hugely impressed by what they've achieved."

Budleigh batted first and managed to achieve 73 runs from their allotted 20 overs in the quarter-final on Sunday, July 10th.

But Seaton managed to achieve the target with five overs to spare, having lost only three wickets.

Devon Cricket League
E Division
Kilmington (12pts) drew with Woodbury (15pts)

TOM Gooding bludgeoned his way to a superb league best of 154 as Kilmington launched a tremendous run chase against Woodbury in E Division.

Gooding hit five sixes and 22 fours in his huge total which gave Kilmington every chance of overhauling Woodbury's daunting total of 272.

Kilmington skipper Maurice Beviss said: "I think if Tom hadn't got out then we would have reached that target.

"Tom was going great guns and hitting the ball everywhere and while he may have scored more in a friendly match that was his best in a Devon League fixture."

Amazingly Gooding, batting at No 4, started slowly after both Kilmington openers were dismissed for ducks but once he found his timing and rhythm he let rip with devastating effect.

He was well supported by Iizzy Wickramaratne, who came in at No 7 and scored a whirlwind 33 including three towering sixes and Roland Stonex (28).

Sadly it wasn't enough to secure Kilmington maximum points as they reached 254-8, 18 runs short, so had to settle for 12 points in an honourable draw.

Beviss added: "It was a decent result for us as we were without our three frontline bowlers. We are not unhappy with the twelve points."

That helps explain why Woodbury, who are languishing at the foot of the table, amassed such a high total though Hal Cook, who took over as captain on the day as Beviss was struggling with an injury, did his best to stem the run flow with figures of 7-57.

The draw keeps Kilmington mid-table in the E Division.
